National Guard "Work for Warriors" Program

California is home to the largest and most frequently deployed National Guard force in the country. Since September 11, 2001, service members have faced deployment in Afghanistan and Iraq, some for multiple tours of duty. Many have faced dangers inherent in combat and have made us all proud by their dedication and sacrifice. These individuals deserve every opportunity as they make their transition back to civilian life.

That's why the California State Assembly recently contributed $500,000 to help establish the new National Guard employment pilot program called Work for Warriors. The program will match up the skills of unemployed and underemployed National Guard members with the hiring needs of employers. If you are a California National Guard member, know someone who is, or if you are an employer, who would like to partner with the California National Guard, please click here.

THE BOTTOM LINE

The Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) is a federal tax credit that offers an incentive for private sector businesses to hire individuals from 9 targeted groups that have consistently faced significant barriers to employment, including Veterans.

Depending on the employment scenario, private sector businesses may be eligible to reduce their federal income tax liability by as much as:

Expanded Work Opportunity Tax Credit Available for Hiring Qualified Veterans

The VOW to Hire Heroes Act of 2011 made changes to the Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC). The Act added two new categories to the existing qualified veteran targeted group and made the WOTC available to certain tax-exempt employers as a credit against the employer’s share of social security tax. The Act allows employers to claim the WOTC for veterans certified as qualified veterans and who begin work before January 1, 2013.

The credit can be as high as $9,600 per qualified veteran for for-profit employers or up to $6,240 for qualified tax-exempt organizations, but the amount of the credit will also depend on a number of factors, including the length of the veteran’s unemployment before hire, the number of hours the veteran works, and the veteran’s first-year wages.

National Guard and Reserves Members

Qualifying members of the Guard and Reserve can now receive reimbursement of up to $2,000 per test. The benefit has been available to Active Duty service members through the GI Bill since 2002, and was extended to qualifying members of the Guard and Reserve in January 2006. For more information and to find out whether you qualify for this benefit, please see the Department of Veterans’ Affairs Licensing and Certification Brochure.

Employer Partnership

The Employer Partnership (EP) was created as a way to provide America’s employers with a direct link to some of America’s finest employees – Service members and their families. Through the partnership, Service members can leverage their military training and experience for career opportunities in today’s civilian job market with national, regional and local Employer Partners.

Creating a Better Workplace

This partnership facilitates the transition that comes with a leave of absence from the civilian workplace to serve the nation. With military training and deployment schedules, Service members and their families can better prepare for a leave of absence and employers are afforded a more predictable picture of their future staffing needs. Employers may also see potential cost saving in recruiting and training. This partnership is a win-win situation for service members, employers and the Nation as a whole.

U.S. Army Education Benefits: Veterans

The U.S. Army has education benefits in place to help eligible Army veterans and their dependents continue or complete their educations. U.S. Army education benefits can help veterans earn a college degree, which can increase civilian employment opportunities and even lead to increased earning potential.

VA Education Benefits for Army Veterans

Most of the education benefits programs in place for Army veterans and their dependents are administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). The primary U.S. Army education benefit for veterans is the GI Bill. The GI Bill has been in place since 1944 and has helped numerous Army veterans earn college degrees. There are two main versions of the GI Bill available for today’s Army veterans: the Montgomery GI Bill and the Post-9/11 GI Bill.

Montgomery GI Bill-Active Duty (MGIB-AD)

The MGIB-AD can provide eligible Army veterans with up to 36 months of education benefits. To be eligible for full benefits, you must enroll in the MGIB program when you enlist, contribute $1,200 during your first year, and serve at least 36 months on active duty. The Montgomery GI Bill can provide you with up to $1,368 per month for tuition, fees, and other educational costs. The benefits must be used within 10 years of separation from active duty and may be used for:

- Attending colleges and universities
- Taking technical or vocational courses
- Participating in approved online degree programs
- Participating in apprenticeships
- Flight training
- On-the-job training
- Certification tests
33- More: Education Benefits

Post-9/11 GI Bill (New GI Bill)

The New GI Bill can provide Army veterans with more U.S. Army education benefits than any prior GI Bill. This GI Bill even offers eligible soldiers the opportunity to transfer GI Bill benefits to their spouses and children. Army veterans may be eligible for this VA education benefit program if they served on active duty for at least 90 days on or after September 11, 2001. To be eligible for the full benefits, you must have at least 36 months of active-duty service. Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits must be used within 15 years of separating from active duty.

Full Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits can provide you with:
- 36 months of tuition assistance at a college or university
- A monthly housing allowance
- A yearly book stipend
- Assistance for tutoring
- Assistance for relocating to an approved school

Veterans Education Assistance Program (VEAP)

VEAP is a variation of the GI Bill which preceded the MGIB-AD. You may be eligible for VEAP if you served on active duty between January 1, 1977 and June 30, 1985. If you were on active duty during this period and opened a VEAP contribution account prior to April 1, 1987, the VA would contribute $2 for every $1 you placed in your account. VEAP benefits can be used for:
- Degree programs
- Correspondence and online courses
- Apprenticeships
- Certificates and licenses
- Vocational flight training

State Veteran Education Benefits

State governments often have their own versions of the VA education benefits programs. The benefits that you or your dependents may be eligible for vary by state, but some states offer benefits similar to the GI Bill. Many states offer reduced tuition or tuition waivers for Army veterans attending state supported colleges and universities, and there are often education benefits programs for the dependents of Army veterans who have been killed or disabled while on active duty. Contact your state's Department of Veterans Affairs for more information.
Champlain College is an approved institution for veterans’ educational benefits. To determine if you are eligible to receive benefits, visit the G.I. Bill Web site or call 1-888-GI-BILL-1.

VA benefit programs include:

- Post 9/11 GI Bill
- Montgomery GI Bill - Active Duty
- Montgomery GI Bill - Selected Reserve
- Montgomery GI Bill Kicker
- Reserve Educational Assistance Program (REAP)
- Veterans Educational Assistance Program (VEAP)
